PSI 2019 PSI Conference
QEII Centre, London

2019 PSI CONFERENCE - RECORD NUMBER OF ATTENDEES!

With the 2019 PSI Conference now behind us, we would like to thank everyone involved: speakers, poster presenters, delegates, exhibitors, sponsors and the PSI scientific committee, for contributing to another record breaking conference.

The 2019 PSI Conference had the largest delegate attendance over the three days, and we look forward to increasing this for future years.

SPOTLIGHT ON: Video on Demand

View the Conference Sessions online

After the successful launch of Video-on-Demand last year, we are thrilled to announce that sessions from the 2019 Conference will shortly be available on the platform.

Video-on-Demand is an easily accessible, online library of resources providing a place to expand your knowledge on a range of topics. All videos are available to PSI members and include webinars, training courses, one day meetings and more.

Over the upcoming weeks, conference sessions will be uploaded to the platform, so if you missed a presentation you will be able to view it online soon!

CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHT: Poster abstracts

We wish to thank those who submitted and presented a poster abstract in the 60 second poster round during the conference. Poster abstracts from this year's conference have been published on the PSI website. And if you missed the full range of abstracts from the conference, these are still available to view on the 2019 PSI Conference app.
